Theme: Justice

July 2

Why I became an American Citizen
Rev. Lone Broussard, Guest Minister

A personal story. In our divisive and troubled times what does it mean to be an American?

July 9

The Myth of Restorative Justice
Tony Bianca, Guest Speaker

Tony Bianca, Director of Lifespan Faith Formation at First UU San Diego, will explore different aspects of justice as represented by several goddesses in Greek Mythology and share his experience implementing mindfulness and restorative justice practices in the Baltimore City School System and beyond.

July 16

“Spirit Works in Strange & Fascinating Ways”
Rev. Andrea Travers

The story begins in the early 1800's with a young Parisian girl, Marie-Eugenie, whose vision travels beyond her imagination. Today it reaches out to folks at Summit UU in Santee. Please join me in discovering the ways her passion for politics and social justice touches us today.

July 23

Who is my Neighbor?
Widening the Circle of Compassion
Robin Mitchell, Guest Speaker

We are called to love our neighbors as ourselves, but who exactly are these neighbors? Our social justice principles call us to work for the marginalized and oppressed, but is our love also reserved for them? This sermon goes back to our Christian roots and looks at two parables that both encourage and challenge us as we seek to answer the call of love in a world where that sometimes seems increasingly difficult.

July 30

Living Joyfully: A Radical Act of Resistance
Ari Honarvar, Guest Speaker

Ari Honarvar was a child in Iran when the newly minted Islamic Republic began its war on joy. The Morality Police cracked down on women's rights, and music and dancing became illegal. The most radical act of resistance in the face of adversity is to live joyfully. Ari will reflect on how harnessing the power of joy increases, not only our ability to withstand challenges, but to also host states of being we deem as difficult or unpleasant. Experiencing joy in community helps us revitalize and nourish our relationship with ourselves and others, face our own internalized morality police, and turn the tide of systemic extremism.

RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION NEWS—FOR ALL AGES

MARY CARTER-VAIL, DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EXPLORATION

Summer is HERE and we play together throughout the month of July in Religious Exploration.

During this time of year many of our families are traveling, children are visiting extended family members and there is Camp so programming will be centered on fun camp like activities that invite summer ease, creativity and play. All ages are welcome to join in the Camp FUUn!

Camp FUUn: July is a busy month for many of our families so our Religious Exploration program is going to reflect that by being very creative centered with a big project that can be joined at any time at the end. We are going to start off with some Ice Cream making and Creative Play Chalice painting for the first two Sundays. Mary will be off at Camp with many of our elementary children, so we are going to have a lighter group for these two weeks. For the last three weeks of the month, we are going to begin a creative project inspired by the video "Caine's Arcade". This story is about a child who spends his summer in the back of his fathers used parts warehouse where he begins to create games from packing boxes and tape for customers to play when they pick up parts. His story is told by his first customer, the movie maker, who tells his story. We will learn how he inspired a community with his imagination and see how we are inspired make a community creation of our own.

Going Home & Filling My Cup: Last June, I took two weeks of much needed vacation. Well, sort of, as it also included attending the UU General Assembly, (GA) virtually during the time. Here is some of my adventure and how it filled my cup.

For the first week, my partner, Paul and I drove up to Del Norte County, CA to visit the redwoods at Prairie Creek and Jedidiah Smith Parks. Both are magical and healing places for us where we feel deeply connected to these ancient forests. We then headed up to the rocky shores of Southern Oregon as far north as Coos Bay. We had no destination in mind and just let the natural spaces guide us. We saw many birds including osprey and bald eagles. We found a pond that was filled with small salamanders, frogs, a beaver, and a sea otter who came out to visit as I sat silently eating my dinner one evening. It was a beautiful time and very connecting for both of us.

For week two I took a red eye to Portland, Maine to visit my mom, Grace. She was going to be a virtual delegate for GA for her congregation, the UU Church of Brunswick and begged me to come as I had not been home for more than 10 years. This was also the congregation of my childhood and I had seen new the building after it had been rebuilt after a fire. I stayed with her in her trailer and helped her to navigate all the tech involved in a virtual assembly. Between workshops and "Gen Sess", we visited with friends, cousins, aunts & uncles, and she showed me some of her favorite places. Some highlights included seeing the new church building that included stained glass I remembered as a youth and a nursery dedicated to my grandfather then named for a song, Tiny Beginnings, that my mom, Grace, wrote for me. We also visited the Maine Botanical Gardens, a Robert McCloskey art exhibit, and enjoyed "Lobstah" on the shore. On my last day, Mom took me to her very special organ in the woods for a private concert. We had a lovely visit and saw many animals in Maine as well including a special visit from twin spotted fawns as we drove by my childhood home. It was so good to connect to my family roots as they run deep in the woods of Maine. I return feeling grounded in my Maine family and connected to the natural spaces and beings that spiritually guide my magic. My cup is full again.

Mary & Summit Children at Camp: Summer is here and that means children will be home or at camp programs. Did you know that there is a UU camp? Camp deBenneville Pines is our UU Camp up in the San Bernadino Mountains that offers weeklong residential camps for all ages. There are three special camps: Elementary, Jr High & Sr High, that are weeklong camps for children or youth only offered in July. Mary will be on staff for Elementary & Sr High. If you have a child or youth interested, check it out at uucamp.org or talk to Mary for more details. Scholarships are available.

Our July Childrens Religious Exploration Theme is Camp FUUn.

We will be gathering in RE at 10 am on Sundays for Religious Exploration on Sundays for our activities. Our children and youth will participate in the service until after the "Time for All Ages" story. We will then engage in our activities in the Religious Exploration area and/or outside (depending on weather conditions). We have a special snack provided by one of our families after our exploration time that we share outside under the shade canopy until we are finished at 11:30 am.

July 2 – Ice Cream Making Sunday – We will begin our month with Ice Cream making from scratch on the first Sunday in July. Mary, who is a former Pastry Chef, will be teaching us some of the science and art of ice cream making using the old-fashioned salt and ice method with a twist. We will also have a fancy professional ice cream machine to make some gelato! This will be a tasty and refreshing day to explore science and wonder together.

July 9 – Creative Play Chalice Painting – Elinor Weed will be leading as we get out the terracotta paints and create art on flowerpot chalices to give to new Summit members this fall. Bring in a flowerpot of your own to decorate and take it home to plant in or leave it until our next Gardening Sunday. Playing with colors and sharing your art with the community as a way of expressing care can be a beautiful spiritual practice for all ages.

July 16 – Collaborative Cardboard Arcade Creations

Part 1 – This Sunday will be the first of a two part "Maker Lab" where we get to create with cardboard and other found objects. We will start by learning about Caine's Arcade by watching a video about how this creative child spent his summer using boxes to make games in the back of his dad's car parts store. Then, we will start to create our own games using found objects with the goal of making an arcade to share with the community at the end of the month.

July 23 – Collaborative Cardboard Arcade Creations

Part 2 – We will continue to work on our cardboard creations inspired by Caine's Arcade. What are we creating? Who knows where our artistic adventures will take us! Join us and be part of this "Make Lab" FUUn!

July 30 – Arcade Play Day! – This will be our final day to finish and share our Collaborative Cardboard Arcade Creations! We will be testing out our games, adjusting as needed and getting to playing them. We may even invite the congregation to come play along with us. Let's all play together.

These are the plans at the beginning of the month, and they may be adapted as our community's needs adapt so, please watch the weekly Children's Religious Exploration Email. To receive the weekly email, send your email address to Mary at summitdre@gmail.com.

With deepest love and brightest blessings,

Meet the Board of Directors for 2023-24

PIERRE VAUGHN, President (1st year)

I have been a member of this fellowship since 2004. I come from a liberal Roman Catholic upbringing and have found the UU Principles to be a better fit and an easy change. Debbie and I have been married for 47 years. I attended Northwestern University, and then law school at Boalt Hall in Berkeley, California. I have been in private practice for 40 years, specializing in civil litigation, including workers compensation and employment law. I like to cook, read, listen to music, and travel. I do all these things with Debbie. I also like to sing. This is a love that I share with our two sons, Kyle and Brendan.

Dear Friends,

I am looking forward to this coming year. I believe it will be a year of growth and friendship within the Summit community. Our congregation, like almost all others within the UUA, has struggled to survive and prosper over the last several years. We saw a reduction in our membership and lost many families whose children were participants in our religious exploration program. The number of our pledge units has fallen from 130 to 80, at the close of the latest pledge drive. However, through the efforts of our staff, Elinor Weed as president, the Board of Trustees and volunteers, our fellowship has well and truly survived this time of overall loss. We managed to pay off the mortgage, hire an energetic new minister, and recently have had at least three new families join our children's program.

I recently listened to the General Assembly service that took place on June 25th. There were many statements of grief over the loss of people in our association from the many changes, even deaths, that have occurred in the last several years. Except for the music and singing, the service was gloomy. Even the time for all ages included words like "be strong", "endure", and "walk up a steep path." They finished with "Leaning into Fear." These characteristics are laudable, but it my hope and expectation that we will continue to always be a welcoming space, to recognize that there is much good in the world, and that it is out there to be experienced - not to be feared. I believe this world is a place of Awe, which can provoke our minds, inspire love, and bring us to that level of friendship that makes us happy. I believe this is the basis from which all change for the better can grow.

When I first came to Summit in 2004, I remember that it was Ed Henry who engaged me almost every Sunday. I immediately knew that this was not a Catholic Church. We were not there to get our blessing and suddenly scatter away. We were there to be in community. Debbie and I recently moved and now live within walking distance of First Church, however, we feel that our ties to the members of this Summit Fellowship are unbreakable.

With love, Pierre Vaughn

JENNY SAAR, Vice President (2nd year)

Jenny Saar has been attending Summit UU Fellowship since early 2007 when she joined the choir via her brother's friendship with Janet Dixon. She has since been a Sunday morning usher, on the aesthetics committee, hospitality committee and ran the Sunday Cafe in the salon for two years. She also did the decorations for Summit annual auctions for many years.

CLAUDIA BANEGA, Secretary (1st year)

Claudia has attended Summit since 2019 and has volunteered in RE programs, with her children's school and PTA, and at the San Diego Museum of Art. She moved to San Diego 4 years ago but had lived here previously off and on between 1998-2007. She has 2 sons entering 5th and 9th grade. As a family, they enjoy swimming, soccer, and traveling. In her spare time, Claudia enjoys listening to NPR, reading, and music. Professionally, Claudia works as a high school substitute teacher and free-lance art curator and art historian. She holds a MA in art history and museum studies and was a Fulbright fellow to Mexico in 2004-2005. Claudia believes strongly in social justice causes and diversifying our institutions to increase diversity, accessibility, and inclusion.

The Summit Board of Directors meets virtually on the third Thursday of the month at 7 pm.

BRENDA FONZI MCGUINNESS, Treasurer (2nd year)

I have been a member of SUUF for about 15 years. My son started RE when he was in first grade, he is now a Junior at UCSB. He continued through Coming of Age, including all OWL classes. He thrived in RE and the amazing program Mary provided. As his BSA Eagle Scout project he built a permanent garden bed for the future RE community. Over the years I have served on the RE Committee, taught in RE, the Nominating Committee and currently on the Finance Committee along with my second year as Treasurer on the Board.

I'm excited and look forward to this coming year!

SERAPHINA GALANT, Director (3rd year)

I have been a member since 2018. I've ushered, partnered with Jim Weed at the Hospitality Table, and participated in book and covenant groups. In 2022, I joined the Board, was on search committee for the Assistant Minister for Pastoral Care and worked on the 2022 Coming Home Gathering and pledge drive. This year, I joined the Sunday Service Committee, became co-chair and, in April, the Sunday Service Coordinator. I look forward to welcoming and working with our new minister, to serving our Fellowship, and to not taking myself too seriously.

AL MORK, Director (2nd year)

I've been a member of Summit for almost thirty years. I have been an usher, on the Nominating Committee, an Office Volunteer, a member of the Homeless Shelter Task Force and served one year on the Board. I've been on various Covenant Groups and enjoy other Social Activities available at Summit.

SALLY JACKSON, Director (3rd year)

Born in the Midwest, Sally has lived in San Diego since age 10, other than four years spent in North Carolina for graduate school. She has a social work background and works for the County of San Diego in older adult services. Sally discovered Unitarian Universalism and Summit in 2013 while on a search for a community that embraces progressive ideals. She became a member in 2014, the same year that her twin daughters were born. When not working, chauffeuring her daughters around, or looking after the pack of dogs (four!) that reside with her, Sally enjoys traveling, spending time with friends and family (many of whom live too far away!), and trying new activities, such as floor hockey, that she should know better than to take up in her 40s!

RYN CORBEIL, Director (2nd year)

Ryn Corbeil has been a Summit member for many years and is looking forward to many more. A newly minted library worker, organizer, poet, and former software engineer, Ryn lives in Lakeside with his wife of over thirty years, their 'puppy,' and their two sons close by.

MARK RICHARD WHEELER, Ph.D., Director (1st year)

Mark and his life-partner Alix Hart joined Summit in 2003. Mark has been an active member of Summit ever since. This will be the second time he has served on the Summit Board as a Member-at-Large. Mark earned his B.A. in philosophy at Colgate University and his M.A. and Ph.D. in philosophy at the University of Rochester. He is a Full Professor in the SDSU Department of Philosophy. Mark and Alix help direct Compassion for African Villages, an all-volunteer non-profit charitable organization that develops sustainable educational resources for impoverished villages in Southern African nations. Mark teaches kung-fu and tai-chi at the White Dragon Martial Arts School in La Mesa. He writes poetry and plays the drums. Mark and Alix live in Lakeside with their two kittens, Buddy and Dash.

Delegate Reflections

This was my first GA. It won't be my last. I had a wonderful time!

It was empowering to be with so many UUs, flying and wearing our rainbow colors, celebrating our common faith and working together to create the religious community we hope to become.

The leadership team and the staff worked hard to be inclusive and diverse and equitable. It is refreshing to be at a conference where people take great pains to respect the dignity and needs of everyone in attendance.

Our progressive ideals were on display. At a time when many vulnerable communities are under attack in the USA and elsewhere, the social justice initiatives voted on at the General Assembly clearly demonstrate that our denomination stands on the side of love.

Although some delegates complained that there wasn't enough time for adequate discussion, my sense was we had ample opportunity to discuss and debate the proposals using various online forums and a well-organized speaker platform for the live sessions. The commitment to the democratic process was evident.

It took a ton of work to run the GA. What an undertaking! I am thankful for the hard work everyone did to make it happen!

I attended virtually through the Zoom and Whova platforms. I wish I had been able to attend in person. Next time I will go in person, unless the UUA decides to go fully virtual in the future.

There were so many tantalizing and important workshops and talks offered at the GA, I might never have slept. Mercifully all of the sessions were available asynchronously and remain available to me until September. Lots more for me to learn this summer. Lots more to think about.

My sincere thanks for your trust. I always voted with Summit in mind--my beloved UU community since 2003--and I am happy to talk with anyone about how I voted and why. To view the general results of the votes, use this link:

uua.simplyvoting.com

Looking forward to the next GA and hope to see all of you there!

- Mark R. Wheeler

I have attended a number of UUA General Assemblies over the years, both in person and remotely. This year I participated as a delegate via Zoom, which I felt worked very effectively and better than last year. Going forward, GA will be alternatively hybrid (in person and by zoom) and solely by zoom. The thought is that this may increase access to more participants who cannot afford the cost or find traveling out of state difficult.

One aspect of GA that has grown over the years, has been access for a wide variety of participants. On site scooters are provided for those who need them. General sessions (which have the largest attendance) are both signed and subtitled for those with limited hearing. Recently, speakers have been encouraged to describe themselves so that those with limited vision can better visualize each speaker. For example, the speaker might say "I am an older man with gray hair and a receding hairline, wearing a shirt with a rainbow, from the Congregation of XXX" or "I am a young woman with purple hair wearing a bright blue sweater and chalice necklace". Some referred to their weight, glasses, or scooter; most added information about the tribes of their home congregation. Pierre listened to some presentations with me and commented that these descriptions improved his overall experience. Finally, there is a group of volunteers called the "GA Care Team" who monitor interactions and mediate disagreements. They reported out daily in the general session, for example reminding participants to avoid hurtful language and to allow those in scooters to move first when sessions end, so they have time to reach the location of their next activity.

Given my involvement in Summit's Finance Committee, this year I focused my participation on financial programming and delegate voting. One take away was the difference between Stewardship (pledging and planned giving) and Fundraising (auctions). The first was described as transformational - covenantal relationships where we commit to supporting the beloved community, and the latter as transactional - exchange relationships where we interact with one another and have fun together while supporting the fellowship.

Some of the issues voted on this year, evoked strong feelings and emotional statements. While this is true every year, it seemed more so than prior years. The youth even staged a mini protest during one session. By and large I was impressed with the kindness and respect of speakers and the moderators to one another.

- Debbie Wingard

I think this year was my 9th GA. There is so much to share! This was the final GA for Rev. Susan Frederick Gray as the President of the UUA. Rev. Susan was the first president with the new one six-year term. We (Summit's youth group) were there when she was elected at GA in New Orleans in 2017! In her reflections, she reminded us that she started her term shortly before Charlottesville, and then through the pandemic, working with many, many others finding ways for congregations to stay safe.

This year, we elected our new UUA President, Rev. Dr. Sofia Betancourt. I'm very excited to see what she'll bring!

The General Sessions (Gen Ses) spent a lot of time discussing amendments to Article II. Through this process I saw just how thoughtful the Article II Commission was in their use of language. One example: Some people wanted to keep the old language, "inherent worth and dignity" versus the proposed "inherent worthiness." May not seem like that big a difference until we realize that worth means we each have a $$ value - just ask our employers, etc. Worthiness has no monetary value—we just are worthy. Over this next year, congregations across the country will be digging deeper into the amended Article II—watch for classes for all ages at Summit over the months ahead! At next year's GA, the new Article II will be voted upon for the second time, needing 2/3 to be adopted.

I also attended the Fahs panel, which discussed RE—this year particularly adult faith formation. There are some good resources available, and am looking forward to working on this area at Summit. If you are interested, too, let me know! Let's play together to build this program at Summit!

The Service of the Living Tradition had amazing music (with our Minister Emeritus Ned Wight in the choir) and a wonderful sermon about change.
